

Local Content Policy – Blogg’s Engineering

Blogg’s Engineering undertakes civil and building construction and site fabrication for mining, oil and gas and industrial projects (greenfield and brownfield) in metropolitan, regional and remote areas of New South Wales.

Blogg’s Engineering recognises the importance of local supplier support in regional economies and is committed to providing full, fair and reasonable consideration of local suppliers.

Blogg’s Engineering aims to encourage and support local suppliers through:

- Ensuring that local suppliers are identified and informed of supply opportunities on contracts undertaken by Blogg’s Engineering. This includes holding local supplier briefings and making direct contact with potential suppliers to help raise awareness of these opportunities.
- Working with local and Indigenous suppliers to assist them to build capabilities and systems through their interaction and work with Blogg’s Engineering.
- Offering smaller work packages to suit the capability and capacity levels of local suppliers.
- Encouraging Blogg’s Engineering’ supplier network to support local suppliers.
- When operating in regional areas, sourcing goods and services from local suppliers to maximise the economic benefit to local communities.
